Romande Energie Holding SA purchases own shares and consolidates ownership structure

Romande Energie Holding SA and Holdigaz SA have terminated their alliance, effective since 2013, and unwound their cross-shareholdings.

Consequently, Romande Energie Holding has purchased 28,737 of its own shares from Holdigaz SA. To consolidate its ownership structure, Romande Energie Holding immediately sold 2,000 shares to its largest shareholders and third-party institutional investors.

The mechanism for allocating shares to these shareholders ensured fair and equal treatment, conducted on an arm's length basis. Details of the transactions, including how they were carried out, are covered by confidentiality agreements.

As a result of these transactions, Romande Energie Holding now has 113,685 treasury shares, representing 9.97% of the share capital.
